LOCAL MATTER.

E. C. WOODSON, City Editor

MORNING EDITION.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

No police news yesterday.

Judge Cloud is at the National Hotel.

The civil docket will be taken up to-morrow in the Superior Court.

We were glad to see Hon. D. M. Barringer had sufficiently recovered to be out upon the street yesterday.

Capt. T. C. Evans, General Traveling Correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer, is in the city at the Yarborough.

Colonel D. Schenk, of Lincolnton, and Col. W. P. Bynum, of Charlotte, are in attendance upon the Supreme Court.

Major Richard Watt York, of the Chatham county bar, is in attendance upon the session of the Supreme Court.

An enterprising firm of advertisers are erecting a huge thermometer in the lower hall of the Capitol near the South door.

The discussion of issues of paternity before a Court House audience does not tend to increase the general modesty of the community.

We are pleased to see in the city yesterday Gen. Cullen H. Battle, the distinguised commander of Battle's celebrated Alabama Brigade of the Army of Northern Virginia.

A Miss Rogers, of Roxville, was thrown from a buggy, near Wake Forest College, in this county, Thursday night and severely injured. Her arm was broken and her head bruised in several places.

The Durham Sunday School had an excursion to Goldsboro yesterday, passing through this city at 7½ a. m. and returning late in the evening. A general good time prevailed.

In our publication yesterday of the list of Assistant Marshals for the approaching State Fair an error occurred. The name of Robert T. Gray, of Forsythe" should have been "Robah F. Gray, of Forsythe."

A valuable farm in Wake county is offered for sale by Isaac J. Rogers. The advantage of half of the farm offered being especially adapted for a stock farm renders it truly valuable. Read the advertisement in another column.

Yesterday evening a Frenchman by the name of Bryant made an assault on Mr. Hesselbach, a German, and the case was promptly brought before his Honor the Mayor, when a very interesting trial ensued. Bryant could only state his case in his mother tongue, and an interpreter was sent for. Enough was elicited by this means to bind Bryant over to keep the peace for six months.

HE SPEAKETH THE TRUTH.—Brother Wellons of the Christian Sun, has recently been a guest at the Yarborough House, and no one who has seen Brother W. will doubt his judgment on good living. Hear him:

"I am quartered at the Yarborough House, with my young friend Rev. J. T. Whitley. The Yarborough is, perhaps, the best kept hotel in North Carolina, and here I find every comfort. It is said that 'poets are born, not made.' So I think about hotel keepers. Dr. G. W. Blacknall was surely born to keep a hotel. I wonder how he ever attempted the practice of medicine in early life. The Doctor is an old acquaintance. I have been stopping at different points for a number of years, and he always manages to make his last house the best. The Yarbrough is being enlarged and greatly improved. Any of our readers coming to the City of Oaks, will find this a splendid place to stop at.

SUPREME COURT.—Court met yesterday at 9 a. m. All the Justices present except Judge Boyden who is still detained by sickness. The following cases were argued:

J. L. Carson vs L. A. Mills, Rutherford. Argo & Harris and Busbee & Busbee for plaintiff and W. P. Bynum for defendant.

W. W. Grier, et al., vs M H Rhyne, Gaston. H. W. Guion for plaintiffs and J. H. Wilson and D. Schenck for defendant.

T. M. Parks and wife vs A. A. Alexander et al., Mecklenburg, [2 cases]. R. Barringer, C. Dowd and H. W. Guion for plaintiffs and Wilson & Son and W. P. Bynum for defendants. Remanded to Judge below to find facts.

L. D. Childs et al., vs S. N. Martin et al., Mecklenburg. Busbee & Busbee and H. W. Guion for plaintiffs and Robt. Strange and W. P. Bynum for defendants.

The Court adjourned to meet this morning at 9 o'clock, when cases from the 10th District will be called.

BABY FOUND.—Candace Tyler, a colored woman, living on the Mordecai farm near this city, found in the cotton patch yesterday evening a colored infant about three weeks old, which from all appearances had been there for at least fifteen hours. She was driving cows from the pasture and was attracted to the spot by the cries of the infant.

The child will be sent to the county alms house. No clue to its inhuman mother has been as yet obtained.

TELEGRAPHICAL.—On and after Monday next the rates for telegraph messages over the Western Union Telegraph Company will be reduced about 25 per cent:

For 25 miles and under the new tariff will be 25 cent for the first ten words, and 2 cents for each additional word; over twenty-five and under fifty miles, 30 cents first ten words, and 3 cents for each additional word.

THE DAILY NEWS.

VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 29, 1873. NO. 108.

THE MILK OF HUMAN KINDNESS.—N. B. Cannady, Esq., of Granville, a member of the graduating class at Wake Forest College, delivered an address on Thursday last in the College Chapel on "The Milk of Human Kindness." We admired the speech, endorsed the sentiment, thought it a good thing, and for the benefit of our young lady readers especially, publish it in full:

Ladies and Gentlemen: Of all the mysteries and wonders in the world's history, of all the themes upon which philosphers and scientific men have made their deep and boundless researches, none seem to present a more inviting field, for the youthful pen, than the overflowing kindness of the human heart. Filled as it is with love, kindness and benevolence, we feel constraned to express in exulting strains the charms it has for us. Is there any one whose heart does not throb with emotion as he looks around and finds exemplified in every action of his fellow man such a display of philanthropy as is now seen in every vocation of life. Let him who doubts, examine with us this morning, the facts in the case. Must this be more palpably demonstrated than it is, when we see men and women toiling and putting forth every exertion in their power to prepare a neat and beautiful parlor for company, while they with their family creep off into the backside of the house to live. Fathers and mothers undergo great privations in order to rear husbands and wives for their neighbors children. They are kinder and more considerate in regard to the feelings of their neighbors' children, than they are in regard to the feelings of their own. See them at the table how composed, how, ready and willing to overlook every species of misbehaviour in the children of their guest, even though their own breakeverything [illegible] ren of the landlady dare become guilty of the same and they soon hear the cry, "Spare the rod and you spoil the child." Who can say this is not kindness of a rare quality. Though it is yet more graciously manifested in these large incorporated companies, who have made it their express business to attend to the wants of others, and more especially is this made manifest in the actions of the multitudinous host of agents. See them in their regular routine of life, hunting men as the huntsman does his game. See them as they go through the swamps, rivers, hillsides and mountains—sit a whole day telling a man of his interests of the improvements of the world, and how easy he would die if he knew his family would get $15,000 or $20,000 by it and then leave without hardly asking him to take out a policy or even to buy a sewing machine. Then these good men are so numerous—it is said that when lightning struck a tree in the vicinity of Raleigh and killed seven of these life insurance agents, that on the next morning there were seen standing by fourteen others, mourning the loss of their dead brethren.

Ought we not to be very thankful for such self sacrificing men? But there is another class of persons who, on account of their kindness of hearts, should be honored—we see this class daily enduring great pain, both mental and physical. They are actually sacrificing health, the sweetest boon that God has given them. This class is the professed fashionable people of the age. In various sections of our country young ladies wear double heads, the result of which is a most satisfactory trial of the elasticity of both skin and hair—they wear such a variety of crevices, humps, bumps and irregularities as are now seen in the physique of the larger half of the human species, were never before heard of, thought of, or even imagined—all of this is carried without a frown or sigh, together with the woes, pains and agonies of deformity, for nothing more nor less than to please the eyes of others. Here language fails us, our tongue falters, our heart throbs with emotion, but the whole inward man seems compelled to burst forth in a cry of enthusiasm, honor and glory to you who are so magnanimous as to sacrifice health, pleasure and more especially your good looks for the eyes of others. And again, it seems that in proportion as we are made to gratify our desires for the fancies and shows of dress, in the same proportion are these desires urged and gratified—that we had rather wear the finery of another and be a fine man or fine women as it may be, than to wear our own neat, though paid for linen; all of this too is done for the gratification of the eye. Is it not the very essence of human kindness. Fain would we drew to a close, this description of kindness, but as we look around and see depicted in the countenance of these our fellow students; that woebegone look as if to say, dare you speak in such glowing terms of what others sacrificed for the public eye, and leave unnoticed us, who are now suffering so much to gratify the eyes of others. To you whose lofty aspirations have caused to mount stilted heeled boots, the Oscalcis of which resembles some lonely peak—may the gracious smiles of the fair ones greet that ruffled brow, may those flushed cheeks and raised lips speak consolation to your love-stricken hearts. This night as you launch your bark for wield or woe, may heaven send a gentle breeze to waft you ever in safety and security.

Scientific men and Philosophers are noted for activity and untiring researches; the Astronomer views the monuments of the heavenly bodies and deduces these from great theories; the Geologist with his penetrating mind is able to dive into the profoundest mysteries of tera firma, and there to gather from the depths ores and various minerals which benefit the world. We find a man who is so daring and ambitious as to snatch from the stands the fiery lightning as it flashes from pole to pole, and bends it submissive at his feet. Read of that orator whose ability is so great, whose style is so pleasant, whose voice is so musical as to hold bathed in tears the thousands that listen, and in a moments time have their cheeks glowing with joy inexpressible. All of these things are grand and powerful in their very natures, and have accomplished wonders for the world. But there is yet a token of kindness, which in its essence far surpasses all this. We read of it, talk of it, and meditate upon it daily. It is the theory of government instituted by the present politicians of this grand old Republic. It is the theory of men who say by their actions, that they desire that this Government should be one of purity—that it should stand as a lasting monument, as a bright star of hope to the millions yet unborn. Here it might be asked, what is the essence of this great theory? Ha! the politicians have concluded that the love of money is the root of all evil, and to rid their country of this huge monster they propose to take all of this root of all evils into their own philanthrophic bosoms for the good of their fellow-man. This we assist, is the cream of human kindness; and does it not surpass all love on record? Ponder the history of the past—explore the archives of antiquity—yea, search creation throughout, and we defy you to point to a satisfactory instance of such deep and profound love for ones country. Such love was not to be found in the bosom of Webster, Clay or Calhoun. Shall we encourage such love by laying back upon our ores and permitting the political current to drift us where it will, or shall we cry, down! down! with such humanity—lifting our voices heavenward, asking that the postals of heaven may once more open upon us the genial rays of peace, liberty and prosperity?

"Stars of the South! thy beams are here—
Here in this heart that weeps thy loss;
Though hidden, thou art still a spare,
Serene, reprined from earthly dross,
Eternal and intensely clear."

Supreme Council Friends of Temperance.

FRIDAY, June 27 1873

Council approved.

Rev. A. W. Mangum was admitted as a visiting member, and invited to participate in the proceedings of the Council. He delivered a stirring address in response, which was listened to with marked attention.

Rev. A. Coke Smith, representative from the South Carolina State Council arrived and took his seat, after being duly obligated.

Rep. Hill offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the provision of our ritual insuring welcome of visitors to subordinate councils, be so construed, that two-thirds of the members present at any meeting of any subordinate council, may prohibit any member of the Order whom they may deem unworthy from visiting the Council taking such action.

Rev. T. A. Carruth and brother Jas. Cutrer offered the following resolution which was adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That this Supreme Council do hereby extend to the organ of the order The Friend of Temperance our unqualified approval and endorsement, and our hearty congratulations to our brother R. H. Whitaker and his excellent wife "Minnie E. Ray," for the very successful manner in which the paper has been conducted.

Resolved, That we do pledge ourselves to a continued support of the paper, by earnest efforts to increase its circulation by our contributions and prayers."

Revs. W. B. Wellons, of Virginia, A. W. Mangum, of Raleigh, T. A. Catruth, of Florida and A. Coke Smith, of South Carolina, in short but very complimentary speeches to the paper and its management, favored the adoption of the resolution. Adopted by a rising vote.

In response, the editor said, he would try to merit in future a continuance of the high esteem which the Supreme Council had just manifested in such complimentary terms.

The report of the committee on constitutions was adopted as follows:

Art. 3, Supreme Council amended by inserting "bi-ennially."

That a note be made, in Subordinate Constitutions saying, that offenses under Art. 7 do not embrace violations of Art. 2.; and that Art. 10 alone refers to violations of Art. 2. The report also sustained the McKenzie decision in the Cape Fear Council case.

Art. VII amended by inserting six months instead of 12.

Rep. Whitaker offered a resolution looking to the collection of temperance statistics. Adopted.

A letter was read from Rev. Dr. Dame, regretting his inability to be present.

Rep. Wellons made a report from the Committe on the state of the Order. This report represented the order in a most flourishing and successful condition.

An amendment was adopted making Associates of State Councils eligible to seats in the Supreme Council.

Rep. T. A. Carruth offered the following which was adopted.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Supreme Council be instructed to notify the Supreme Council of the N. F. T., that in the election of our officers, we did so with the full understanding, that in the event of consolidation their Supreme Council is to have the selection of each alternate officer, as proposed by them in their basis of union.

Rep. Carruth offered the following, which was adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Supreme Council are due and are hereby tendered to the citizens of Raleigh and the Proprietors of the Hotels, for their generous hospitality during our stay in their midst. Also, to the several rail road companies for courtesies extended; also to Oak City Council, No. 16, for the use of their Hall, in which to hold our sessions.

An hour was spent in heart felt speeches, from which new courage and zeal were gathered, for the work which is to be done.

The Supreme Council then, after a most harmonious and profitable session of four days, adjourned to meet in Marian, S. C., on the 2nd Wednesday in June 1875.

Sine the 1st of September, 1872, there have been received in Raleigh 21,644 bales of cotton, all of which was sold in this market.

CLOSING EXERCISIG OF WAKE FOREST COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.—The Commencement Exercises of Wake Forest College closed on Thursday night with the annual social party.

At the request and solicitation of many of the older heads present, the Rev. Dr. Hatcher, of Petersburg, Va., attempted to deliver his celebrated lecture on the "Modern Dance," but was necessarily compelled to close it abraptly on account of confusion in the audience. What we heard of the lecture was really entertaining, being well expressed and somewhat facetious in style. The argument we thought very deficient and believe very little good will be accomplished by the lecture. It is never too late to do good, but our opinion is that it is rather late in the day to commence a reformation on the Abminadab Sleek basis. It is furthermore, a generally conceded opinion that an argument dependant for its support upon the tearing down and utter innihilation of a profession equal in dignity to that of Dr. Hatcher's is no argument at all.

We refer to the harsh criticism on the medical profession, who, according to the speaker's idea, as we understood him, roamed the country at large with a plentiful supply of calomel on hand seeking victims which, when found, were dosed only with this compound, and nothing else. We believe, however, that the Dr. knew better, and only made this raid on the doctors to make his lecture funny, in which attempt it is our opinion his failure was complete.

We regret that the lecture was cut short by the impatience of the young people, as we would have been pleased to hear him through, but we think the young people were exactly right in complaining of the [illegible]

The lecture being over, the audience dispersed by couples in various directions; in, around, and through the campus, to the Literary Halls, through the passages, the chapel, Bradley's Ice Cream Saloon and every other accessible point about the premises. We saw a great many pretty ladies, and lots of ugly men. It was our intention to report in full (ala Jenkins) the various costumery worn, together with the appearance, &c., of the most fashionable and attractive of the fair sex present, but lack of space forbid; and again, it would be a dificult task for us to discriminate between the personal attractions of at least a dozen, and we know that our opinion would not be generally indorsed. For instance, if we assert that Miss A—e—k—l, of Henderson, was the prettiest lady in the party room, the question would be at once asked if I saw Miss N—e S—s, of College Hill; Miss M—e E—n, of Louisburg; Misses E—s and McD—ls, of Raleigh, and probably others. This would really confound us, and we would not be able to say whether or not we were right in our assertion. We commit this part of our report to Harrel, of the Henderson Tribune, who was present with his note book, and will doubtless be able to perform the task. The party closed about 3 o'clock A. M. Nothing of a disagreeable or unpleasant nature occcurred to mar the enjoyment of the occasion.

GRAND EXCURSION FROM CHARLOTTE TO MOREHEAD CITY AND BEAUFORT.—Through the courtesy of our friend S. S., we are informed that there will be a grand excursion on the 15th proximo, from Charlotte to Morehead City and Beaufort.

An excursion train, consisting of a sufficient number of the Company's elegant coaches for the comfortable accommodation of all who participate, will leave Charlotte on the 15th prox., at 1:30 p. m., arriving at Morehead City on the morning of the 16th at 9 o'clock, and returning will leave Morehead on the morning of the 18th at 7 o'clock, and arrive at Charlotte on the following morning at 2:40 o'clock.

The attractions held out are numerous, and in addition to the splendid fishing, fine boating, bathing, &c., there will be a pony penning on the 17th inst., and also a grand dress ball. This promises to be an enjoyable affair as everything will be done by the railroad authorities to make the occasion pleasant to the excursionists, and we advise our people to leave "dull care" behind them for a day or two and take this opportunity of enjoying themselves.

The train arrives at this place at 12:20, a. m. and leaves at 12:30, returning arrives at 3:33 p. m. and leaves for Charlotte at 3:40.

The price of a ticket from this city for the round trip is fixed at the low sum of $4.

MISSING.—Hardy Grace, a colored lad aged nine years, left his parents in Kinston some three weeks ago to come to his mother in this place and has not since been heard from. Hardy has small pox marks on his nose. He has relatives living in Newberne and La Grange. Mr. Busbee's appointment gives great satisfaction, as his reputation for talent, industry and energy is well established.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE IN WAKE COUNTY, N. C.

The undersigned has 141 acres of good land, well improved and plenty of good water, orchard, &c.

I have also about 500 acres adjoining the above, very well improved, one-third or more of rich bottom, water plentiful, having two creeks, springs and branches, two orchards.

There are about one hundred acres literally covered with herds and other grasses, which grow without any attention.

It is so situated that a good farm and also a stock farm can be carried on together or separate to great advantage, &c.

The land is 20 miles Northwest of Raleigh, within seven miles of the town of Durham.

All or any part of the above land will be sold on good terms, or one or two good partners preferred, as it requires money and energy to carry on two farms successfully.

For further particulars address me at Raleigh. I can be seen any day at my office in the Capitol.

CAREY, N. C., June 16th, 1873.

W. C. Morgan, General Agent, Raleigh, N. C:

DEAR SIR:—The machinery purchased from you gives entire satisfaction. The Shingle Machine will cut from 10,000 to 12,000 per day. The work is well and accurately done.

The Saw Mill is cutting lumber finely; the largest day's work I have done with it was 17,375 feet. I have been in the lumber business for twenty years. The Blandy Engine of 25 horse power will do about double the work that I have ever had one to do of same estimated horse power.

If machinery is needed in this neighborhood you will have no difficulty in selling. My mill is very much admired.

Yours truly,

ORIGIN OF THE GRANGES—THE CREDIT GIVEN TO NORTH CRROLINA.

Col. Aiken, in his address in this city, stated that in 1866, a Mr. Kelly, of the District of Columbia, at his own solicitation, was appointed by President Johnson as an agent of the Government, to visit the Southern States for the purpose of inquiring into the validity of the war titles to landed estates in the South, which had been sold for taxes, or taken possession of by unauthorized persons on various pretexts. Mr. Kelley succeeded in restoring a large number of such estates to their rightful owners. He took occasion, during his agency, to acquaint himself with the condition and prospects of the Southern planters, and on his return to Washington City, casually remarked upon the want of organization among the farmers in the localities he had visited. A lady who heard the conversation suggested the movement which has now culminated in the formation of the Granges of the Patrons of Husbandry. The suggestion struck Mr. Kelley forcibly and was put in execution at once. The success which has attended the movement has been remarkable.

In the New York Tribune of the 26th inst., there appears a notice of a new publication, entitled "The Granges of Patrons of Husbandry" written by a lady, giving the history of the Western farmers' organization. In this work the origin of the Granges is attributed to [illegible] Scotch farmers the farmers to purchase supplies at wholesale prices and from first hands, and for the cultivation of social feelings among the members.

In the Spring of 1868, the idea of these North Carolina Scotch farmers was communicated to the farmers in the West, and the first Grange was organized that year in Minnesota, "except the genuine germ in North Carolina." The order soon spread throughout Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois, and its membership in these four States at the close of the year 1871, was over seventy-five thousand members. In less than twelve months, this number was increased to four hundred and fifty thousand in the States named. It soon to spread to other States and to the Territories. Its wonderful growth and activity in the West struck terror to the hearts to the politicians, who found that they would be overborne in the torrent if they attempted to stay its unprecedented progress. It now claims active operation in twenty-two States, three Territories and the Canadas.

The Tribune gives the following extract from the new publication, explanatory of the different degrees recognized by the order:

"The order is a secret society. Women, as well as men, are admitted to all the privileges of the Granges. Members admitted to the first degree are known respectively as Laborer and Maid; to the second degree, as Cultivator and Shepherdess; to the third degree, as Harvester and Gleaner; and to the fourth degree, as Husbandman and Matron. The fifth degree is conferred only in the State Granges, which are composed of masters and past-masters of the subordinate Granges, and their wives, who are matrons. Those admitted to this degree are called members of the Pomona or Hope Grange. The sixth degree is conferred only upon members of the Council of the National Grange, which is composed of masters and past-masters of State Granges, and their wives, who have taken the degree of Pomona. The emblem of this degree is Flora (charity.) The seventh and highest degree is conferred only upon members of the National Senate, which comprises members of the Council who have served one year in that body. The members of this degree are charged with the secret work of the order, and constitute a court of impeachment of all officers of the National Grange. The functions of the Council and Senate are equivalent to to those of representatives and senators in civil legislative bodies. The supreme executive authority of the order is lodged in the Master of the National Grange, at present Mr. Dudley W. Adams, of Waukon, Io."

IT IS NOT REPUDIATION.

It is not repudiation to refuse to pay a fraudulent debt.

There is no obligation, either in law or morals, resting upon North Carolina to pay in full the unconstitutional bonds issued by the Littlefield-Swepson Legislature.

Some of these bonds have already been pronounced illegal by our Supreme Court.

North Carolina will never pay a dollars of these fraudulent bonds except by compulsion. If the debt is forced out of her by any judicial tribunal, the people will everywhere and in every possible way protest against it as a great wrong and outrage.

North Carolina will not repudiate her honest debt, but she will repudiate the acts of the swindlers and thieves who have endeavored to saddle upon the tax-payers of the State the payment of obligations tainted with fraud and corruption.

Notwithstand all the gloomy prognostications, cotton plants in Georgia are over four feet high.

M. C. Trout, an ex-member of Congress, dropped dead on Thursday in the Mansion Hotel at Mauch Chunk, Pennsylvania.

A SPEEDY TRIAL—WALWORTH'S LINE OF DEEENSE.

The New York papers are congratulating the public upon the fact that the counsel of young Walworth have refused to avail themselves of legal subterfuges, in order to postpone the trial of their client. To Mr. Charles O'Conor is given the credit of having in this case instituted a much needed reform because of his refusal to avail himself of the "dilatory tactics to which so many murderers have owed their necks."

Although the murder of Walworth was committed only about three weeks ago, the trial is already nearly over.

On Wednesday last, the jury was obtained, the opening speech on the State made by Mr. Rollins, who represented the District Attorney; the testimony for the prosecution closed, and the opening address for the prisoner was made by Mr. Beach. The latter gentleman spoke about one hour and a half, and his eloquent effort made a most favorable impression for the prisoner. Mr. Beach promised to introduce testimony to show that the constant ill treatment of the Walworth family by Mansfield Tracey Walworth, coupled with his threats to take the life of his wife and children, justified the son in committing the awful deed. He contended that the act was done without premeditation or malice, but under the influence of impulse while smarting under wrongs and insults which dethroned reason and consciousness.

The following extract from Mr. Beach's speech to the jury, will give our readers an idea of the line of argument that will be pursued by the defendant's counsel:

"You gentlemen, have heard the opening of the prosecuting counsel, who [illegible] you with his accusations. But we for the defence will show you a series of letters addressed by the deceased to his wife breathing in every sentence threats and denunciations against her; letters addressed to his eldest brother, the venerable gentleman that you see before you, in execration of him; letters addressed to his father shocking from their irreverence and blasphemy. For years letters like these were pourned upon the family, demoniacal in their purport and terrible in their threats. Gentlemen, you can only understand the character of this man when we shall have presented to you these letters. In them you shall find motive and cause enough for the act of this young man in taking off the lite not of the father, though father he was, but of the oppressor and tyrant. I cannot describe this father in better shape than that he was a falsifier of all manhood and truth, a cruel parent and a false husband, who violated all the sanctities of domestic life, who forgot or ignored all the proprieties of home and family, who disregarded every obligation to those who should have looked to him for kind and paternal care. You can imagine the natural result of such treatment of a parent towards his family. I verily believe that if he had himself carried into execution any of the murderous threats with which his letters were filled and were put upon trial for homicide there is not a court or jury in the land that would not have pronounced him mad. You could only say that he was a very devil in himself and sent by the arch fiend to persecute his wife and children.

From the time of his father's death he rarely lived with his family. In 1870 Mrs. Walworth came to New York, and for a brief period resided with him in a house in which her mother and his stepmother had a life interest. What she suffered during that time no tongue can tell. The wife of the son of the great Chancellor Walworth, herself sprung from a race of which she might well be proud—cultivated and accomplished, nurtured in comfort and comparative luxury—that wife and mother, neglected and forsaken, was exposed to want; night after night compelled to sit in her lone and desolate home without natural support. I present this picture to you, gentlemen, to show you the sort of life this lady was forced to lead and to enable you to judge of the natural effect which such family associations would have upon the mind of a young and impressive boy. During these events he was a mere child, but as his grew up he too clearly estimated a father's neglect and a husband's ill treatment; and as he became older and as he stands before you to-day, he constituted himself the protector of his mother and the avenger of her wrongs. During all these years letters were continually addressed to the family by the deceased, fraught with the most malignant threats and breathing the foulest language and profanity. This son and this mother lived in continual fear and terror of those threats and in daily apprehension of their fulfilment. Gentlemen of the jury, look upon the prisoner and you will see in him one whose young life has been oppressed, and whose youthful hopes have been blighted in the very bud. Instead of a youth animated with the aspirations natural to his age, looking forward to a career of honorable distinction, worthy of the two races from which he springs, he presents before you a moody, silent and abstracted look, bearing and demeanor, which not all the love and fond devotion of a mother has ever changed. There was no malice in his heart against his father—no revengeful feelings to satisfy beyond such as were aroused by the wrongs inflicted on his mother. It was charged that he came to this city premeditating the act which he perpetrated. Gentlemen, this is not so. He came here with some sort of a hope that he could have induced his father to cease his persecution of his mother, while he with his uncle would have made a trip to Europe. He had known enough of the father's persecutions of his mother to feel that he ought not to leave her unprotected and without assurance of exemption from insult and wrong."

A Mr. Knickerbocker, of Chicago, rivals Wise by proposing to tame storms. He maintains that a system of connected electric conductors throughout the country would do away with every tornado, whirlwind, hurricane, cyclone, simoon, and tempestuous sirocco.

SURVIVORS' MEETING IN IREDELL.

A meeting of the surviving Confederate soldiers of Iredell county will be held at Statesville, on the 4th of July, for the purpose of taking some active steps towards getting up the history of the soldiers of that county during the late war. On that occasion an effort will be made to organize a "SURVIVORS ASSOCIATION."

The meeting will be addressed by Hon. W. M. Robbins, Col. R. F. Armfield and others.

Gen. Bryan Grimes, Gen. D. H. Hill and Maj. Seaton Gales have been invited to be present.

Iredell county has taken the initiative in this movement, and we trust her example will be followed by others.

A Survivors' Association in every county in North Carolina is what is needed to preserve the war record of the State, and these associations will be of invaluable service to the historian.

In fact, without such organizations it will be next to impossible to get the necessary historical data for a full and complete North Carolina history of the war.

We trust that the meeting at Statesville on the 4th of July, will give a fresh impulse to the movement now being made to rescue from oblivion the bright deeds of our soldiers in the struggle for Southern liberty.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BILLOUS.—If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Billiousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. Sold by all first-class druggists.

How unnecessary the anguish many persons undergo from rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, toothache and earache. We say unnecessary because the application of Mexican Mustang Liniment to the affected part, or a few drops of it in the ears or tooth, affords instantaneous, and what is better, permanent relief. For cuts, wounds, bruises, swellings, and all injuries or diseases which require treatment externally, this liniment is everywhere regarded as the most potent and reliable healing agent in existence. For all external injuries or ailments of horses and cattle, it is infallible.

His Honor, HENRY POTTER, late Judge of the United States Court for the District of North Carolina, gave the following as his opinion of Beckwith's Pills:

"For some ten or twelve years past I have been in the habit of using DR. BECKWITH'S ANTI-DYSPEPTIC PILLS in my family, and consider them so valuable a domestic medicine, that I never suffer my stock to be exhausted. I have used them with good effect in dyspeptic cases, under various modifications, and have found them efficacious in relieving from Sick Headache, and from all the usual symptoms of functional derangement of the viscera. As an aperient, they are excellent. I have long had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with the inventor of these Pills. He is a gentleman of talents, integrity and worth, and he ranks high in the science of medicine and the healing art.

H. PORTER."

On Thursday morning the hotel of Mrs. Brothers, at Fair Bluff, was destroyed by fire. The fire originated in the kitchen. The loss is about $4.000 and the insurance is about $2,000.

Says the Milton Chronicle of the 26th inst:

On Friday evening last about 7 p. m., while Mr. Sidney Stevens, township constable for the Leesburg township, sat in his porch, he was called to one side by Ad. Richmond, negro, who was cropping with him on shares, asked to let him (Ad.) have five or ten dollars. Mr. Stevens couldn't see it, exactly, as this was not in their articles of agreement. The negro thereupon seized him and both parties in the scuffle dealt blows. Mr. S. succeeded in extricating himself from the negro's clutches, whereupon the darkey picked up a stout billet of wood and hurled it with great force at Stevens, which struck him glancingly on the forehead and so stunned him that the negro succeeded in pulling Mr. Stevens' pocket-book out of the breast pocket of his coat, and was making off with it, when this gentleman having recovered from the momentary stun, seized a fence rail and brought the robber to the ground, who dropped the pocket book and recovering to his feet fled like a quarter horse. He was pursued to the Virginia line and had not, been captured from latest accounts.

A few days ago the annual Corpus Christi procession took place in Vienna, with a curious blending of religious and military pomp. The cortege started from St. Stephen's Cathedral, headed by the Emperor, and marched through certain streets with a curious mingling of psalmody and drumming. Archbishops, priests, officers, courtiers, soldiers, women, artisans, and monks were in line, and sight was one of mediæval magnificence. To many Americans now in the Austrian capital the sight will doubtless remain memorable for their lifetimes.

Private advices from Keweenaw Peninsula, Lake Superior, establish the facts that there is still in the lake ice to cover forty square miles of the surface, and that some of it is at least 20 feet thick. There are harbors that cannot yet be entered by sailing vessels or side wheel steamers, and those unaccustomed to the climate still wear winter overcoats.

A house in which ten persons were sleeping was forced from its foundations at the foot of a cliff in Montreal, a few days ago, by the fall of a large rock, and was pushed out into the middle of the road, without injury to the inmates.

There is a boy eleven years old in Detroit, who feigns death so perfectly that the coroner has offered him a thousand dollars a year to let him have the use of his corpse during that time.

A stage was robbed near Marysville, California, on Monday, by three masked men fully armed. Wells, Fargo & Co.'s treasure box, containing $2,800, was taken and the robbers escaped. The passengers were unmolested.

A negro man by the name of Albert Eppes was found lying dead on Wednesday night in a yard in Rockett street Petersburg, Va. The coroner said it was a visitation of Providence.

"Noiseless parlor rifles" are announced. It would be a great thing to celebrate the 4th of July with such weapons.

WHAT WE GET FROM GERMANY.—Statistics gathered from reports of the American consulates in Germany show how immense our imports are from that empire in other staples than emigration. Prussia in the year 1872 sent us in value fourteen million dollars, Saxony ten millions, and the Hanse Towns six and a half millions, the balance being contributed from Bavaria, Baden and Wurtenburg. Cotton hosiery appears as the most valuable article in this list of our drafts upon German industry. Woollen cloths are next in amount. Hardware, ribbons, trimmings, toys, musical instruments, books, furs, glass and earthenware, hops, leather and wines enter prominently into the account. In this exhibit we see that Germany, recovering from the diversion of her forces from industrial pursuits consequent upon a state of war, is rapidly enlarging her exports to this country, and this increase may be taken as an indication of proportionate growth in her industrial production. As a supplier of our wants she is far behind France, all Germany selling in goods to the value of thirty-seven millions, while Paris alone exceeded that sum by more than a million. Should no warlike disturbance interfere, it is reasonable to anticipate that our trade with Germany will continue steadily to increase.

A Troy, N. Y., young lady by the name of Swift, recently eloped with a negro.

C. E. Whitlock has been chosen President of the Virginia Towing Company.

The buttons on the overcoat of the Shah, of Persia, are worth a million of dollars.

Helmbold, the former Buchu millionaire, is in the hotel business in Berlin.

A monument is to be erected to the memory of the late John R. Thompson.

The Greatest Excitement Out in Raleigh the Other Day.

A wagon full of men, women and children came tearing down Morgan street at full speed, but was fortunately stopped at the corner of Dawson, in front of J. W. Brown's store before any damage was done. On inquiry it was found that they had heard of the arrival of a number of those excellent lately introduced into our city by Mr. Brown, and were afraid all would be gone before they could get them. They, however, succeeded in getting a supply of them, as well as of the Oil which Mr. Brown is now manufacturing at his store, and which used with the "Vesta Gas Burner" gives a light equal in brilliancy to gas light, and costing far less, the fluid being only 35c per gallon.

SELECTED POETRY

ON THE WATER.

FROM THE GERMAN OF GEIBEL.

The valley and the hill are sweet with May,
The soft spring air is softer still to-day;
The woodland echoes float in evening red,
The earth is joyful, but my heart is dead.

The silver moon hangs in the crimson West;
Gay songs are singing from each happy breast;
In the full wine-cup glows the wine, deep red;
Can I be joyful when my heart is dead?

The little boat goes swiftly on her way;
The first stars glimmer in the twilight gray,
Soft music sounds, and softer words are said;
I would be joyful, but my heart is dead.

Yet if my lost love from the grave could rise,
To thrill me with those unforgotten eyes,
And offer me once more the joys long fled!
In vain! for lost is lost, and dead is dead.

HIGGINS'S DOG.—It was a great many yeas ago, at a camp-meeting, that Brother Higgins, a good man but passionately fond of dogs, came in one day accompanied by a black and tan hound. Somebody asked him to address the congregation, and he mounted the stand for that purpose, while his dog sat down on his launches immediately in front, looking at his master. In the midst of the discourse, which entertained us much, another dog came up, and after a few social sniffs at Brother Higgins's dog, began to examine the hind leg of the latter with his teeth, apparently for the purpose of ascertaining if it was tender. An animated contest ensued, and one of the congregation came forward for the purpose of separating the animals. His efforts were not wholly successful. He would snatch at the leg of Higgins's dog, but before his hand got there the yellow dog would be on that side, and would probably take an incidental and cursory bite at the deacon's hand. Brother Higgins paused in his discourse and watched the deacon. Then he exclaimed, "Spit in his eye, Brother Thompson; spit in the hound's eye!" Brother Thompson did, and the fight ended. "But I just want to say," continued Mr. Higgins, "that outside of the sanctuary that dog of mine can eat up any salmon-colored animal in the State, and then chaw up the bones of its ancestors for four generations, without turning a hair! You understand me?" The service proceeded.—Max Adeler in Saturday Evening Post.

NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC, 1873

Calculated by Dr. Craven, and compiled by L. Branson, printed on fine-sized and calendered paper, neatly and elegantly.

It contains many useful recipes, much valuable statistical matter, and many items. It is emphatically an AGRICULTURAL ALMANAC. It is different from every other Almanac; has been published a number of years and sold successfully.—It is, we think, certainly as good if not better than any other.
